SOLID ROCKET MOTOR TEST— NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., has completed construction of its Transient Pressure Test Facility which will be used for a series of Space Shuttle solid rocket motor tests scheduled to start in early November. The tests will verify the ignition pressure dynamics of the motor. These tests, in conjunction with Joint Environment Simulator tests and full-scale motor firings being conducted at Morton Thiokol's Wasatch Facility in Utah, are expected to lead to qualification of the redesigned motor. In this photo, to the left is the access tower where the test article will be fired. The large building in the center is the Refurbishment Facility where the test articles will be refurbished for subsequent tests. (NASA photo by Dennis Keim)

Navy oceanographer makes international space team

Dr. Jimmy Mitchell of the Naval Ocean Research & Development Activity (NORDA) at National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County is the only Defense Department scientist to be selected as a member of the Topex/Poseidon science team. Mitchell is a resident of New Orleans, La.

NASA announced the selection last week, along with the more than 40 other scientists and engineers who comprise the team that will manage and place experiments aboard the international oceanographic satellite, scheduled for launch aboard a European Ariane rocket in December 1991.

Mitchell, an oceanographer in NORDA's Remote Sensing Branch, devised an experiment entitled: "The Dynamics and Energetics of Mid-Latitude Western Boundary Current: A Comparison of the Kuroshio Extension of the Gulf Stream." It is one of the 39 experiments selected by NASA and the French Space Agency, Centre National d'Etudes Spatiales (CNES) for the Topex/Poseidon mission.

Other nations represented in the science team include Great Britain, France, West Germany, Belgium, Japan and New Caledonia.

Topex/Poseidon will carry these instrumented experiments in a 63-degree inclination orbit around the earth to measure the ocean's circulation and its variations in detail. Data from Topex/Poseidon, and other international experiments planned to coincide with it, will produce the most extensive studies of the world's oceans ever undertaken.

The principal remote sensing technique to be used by Topex/Poseidon will be radar altimetry, whereby a signal is bounced off the ocean's surface as the satellite passes overhead. The time required for the signal to return to the radar gives a precise measurement of the distance between the satellite and the sea surface.

Using other instruments to pinpoint the satellite's position in space, experimenters will be able to produce a detailed map of the topography of the ocean surface. The height variations on the surface of the ocean are directly related to currents, eddies, and other features of ocean circulation. By taking into account the influence of the Earth's gravity field on ocean surface topography, researchers will also be able to describe major features of the sea floor bathymetry.

City to provide dance area, grandstand for Navy Band concert

Details of the free U.S. Navy Show Band South concert have been released by the Bay St. Louis Downtown Merchants Association and the City of Bay St. Louis.

This highly acclaimed show band will begin the concert featuring music from the 40's to the 80's at 6:30 p.m. at the park directly behind the Bay St. Louis City Hall on Wednesday evening.

Admission is free.

Spokesmen for the Downtown Merchants Association are hoping for a large crowd, particularly for this concert as it is hoped that a tradition of continuing concerts in the park can be scheduled for local and area residents in the future.

Tyson McMahon, president of the Downtown Merchants Association, feels it is the intention of the Merchants Association to provide such concerts in an effort to build Bay St. Louis and the concerts in the park will fill a void culturally that exists in the communities.

The concert is free to the public and spectators are urged to bring a blanket or ground cover or lawn chairs and just spend the evening relaxing to great music under the stars in the park on Wednesday evening.

The newly formed Bay High School show chorus will be featured during the show band's intermission. This chorus, under the direction of Diane Flowers, will provide added entertainment for the public.

The Navy Show Band was featured at the recent Merchants Association Beachfront Festival and it was to be such a success that efforts have been made to have them back to the Bay for the public's enjoyment.

The show band plays many types of music and a wide range from show tunes to Cajun music to rock and their medleys span from the 40's to the 80's.

The mayor and City Council of Bay St. Louis have joined in presenting this performance and are erecting a stage and dancing area underneath the historic live oak on City Hall grounds with appropriate lighting for the activities.

Soft drink and popcorn concessions will be available on the grounds. McMahon added "much of the success of this concert will be due to the unique cooperation and enthusiasm of the mayor and the Council.

Clayborn urges all residents employed outside Hancock County to designate payroll deductions to the local drive which this year has a goal of $65,000. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

County, Hancock school board, port commission to meet on school site dispute

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors plans to meet jointly with both the Hancock County School Board and the Port and Harbor Commission to try to settle a dispute over a site for a new school.

The meeting has been set for 4:30 p.m. Monday in the supervisors boardroom in the courthouse. The school board's regular meeting is set for 6:30 p.m. at Stennis Airport the same day.

The meeting was requested by Harold Olsen, executive director of the Port and Harbor Commission.

The commission had met on Monday to discuss the school site, which is adjacent to Stennis Airport as well as the vocational-technical center that the county schools operates in conjunction Pearl River Junior College.

Olsen said the commission feels that since the county spent roughly $10 million on the airport industrial park and should consider future development, another school site should be used because building in the selected area would hamper further development.

Superintendent of Education Terrell Randolph also attended the meeting and he objected to a joint meeting before site approval is received from the Educational Finance Commission, which is expected to provide $600,000 in funding for the project if the site meets state specifications.

However, that would take about 30 days and leave only about one day for the board to change the site in order to meet the architects site deadline.

Randolph said he felt that the three boards should not have to go through all the motions for a site that may not be approved for funding anyway.

Usually, a school is supposed to be in a residential area, and special approval may be needed to get it built in the close vicinity of an industrial site.

However, he said that he feels that of the seven or eight sites discussed, the one which has been selected is the only suitable one and will be particularly useful because it will be adjacent to the junior college facility.

Vocational-technical students will not have to be transported and the junior college may be able to extend its course offerings, perhaps adding advanced courses for high school students, Randolph added.

Olsen was also concerned that having the school in the proposed site may eventually interfere with air traffic, which is presently classified as general aviation but may eventually include export traffic.

Randolph wanted the joint meeting in executive session because it would deal with land purchase, but Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner pointed out that site selection, not purchase, is the issue at hand.

"Nobody here is against education. Nobody here is against a new school," Ladner said. "But what difference does it make if we build it here or one mile down the road?"

Randolph contended that there was a great deal of difficulty in pleasing a groups of parents who petitioned the board with regard to a new school, and said he expects

"open rebellion" from parents in the south end of the county and more protests, including a petition that would force the necessary $6.6 million bond issue to referendum, if the school site is moved any further north.

He contends that the airport has room to develop on the south, but Board of Supervisors President James Travirca said the land is too low to be useful for either the school or industry.

The bond issue specifies only that the school be near Stennis, and it was the general consensus of the

Joint meet scheduled to discuss Stennis site

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

A joint meeting of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission, Board of Supervisors and School Board is scheduled for 4:30 Monday afternoon at the courthouse board room.

The Port and Harbor Commission requested the meeting Tuesday morning at a supervisor's meeting to discuss a parcel of property near Stennis International Airport which the school board is considering purchasing as a site for a new junior-senior high school.

At the commission's meeting Monday afternoon, members agreed to try and get the school to consider other locations because the site is "the only feasible way to expand the industrial airport."

Commission President Ronald Artigues told the group there are only a few acres of land still available at the industrial airport.

The commission should go on record asking the school board to consider other sites, he said.

"We have a $10 million investment at Stennis and if a school is built on this piece of property, the expansion potential of the park will be severely limited," Artigues said.

Since improvements and utility construction has been completed at the park, three businesses have moved in within the past year, he continued.

"We're in a position to move forward with property owner's today to buy the property but we don't want to step on anyone's toes, we are all a part of Hancock County," Artigues continued.

"I believe we have to do this, we just don't have any other choice," he said.

Commission Treasurer Dave McDonald assured the group the money was available to purchase the 40-acre site "tomorrow."

McDonald said in addition to needing the site for expansion, he was very concerned about any plans to construct a school on that site because it would be directly in the glide path on an east-west runway which may be needed at the airport in the future.

Also at the commission meeting, Director Harold Olsen was authorized to work with CorTech Engineering to write a sewer-use ordinance for both Stennis and Port Bienville Industrial Park.

Olsen told the commission the ordinance is needed so incoming industries will be able to see what can be put in the existing wastewater systems and how it will be treated.

Olsen said the sewer-use ordinance is very appropriate at this time and even a necessity.

"Just because you have a sewer system doesn't mean you can handle any and everything that a company moving in the park wants to dump in the system," said Richard Murley, a representative of Cortech.

The ordinance will take the guesswork out of any determinations as to what can be dumped in the system and what can be treated, he added.

Commissioner McDonald said he was 100 percent in favor of getting the sewer-use ordinance in place.

"I don't think there is anything we do that can hardly be more important than to maintain control of what is going on at the parks," he said.

The project cost with assistance will be $2,600.

Texas student killed

BY DENA BISNETTE

A Texas student has been killed in a one-vehicle accident on Interstate-10 that occurred after he apparently fell asleep while driving.

According to Hancock County Coroner Harold Stiglet, 18-year-old Lamar University student Jeffrey Duane Clements of Vidor, Texas, died of head injuries in the crash, which occurred at about 4 a.m. Sunday when his vehicle hit an I-10 bridge railing in the westbound lane near the Highway 607 exit south of Waveland.

Stiglet pronounced him dead at the scene at about 5:15 a.m.

Clements was not wearing a seatbelt and had been thrown out of the vehicle, he added.

A Highway Patrol spokesman said the student apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

The crash injured three passengers, James Townley, Todd Patton and Willie Cagle, all of Vidor, who were asleep in the car.

The four were returning to Texas after finishing a roofing job on a Florida church.

PBS show features tax reform

Taxpayers should start thinking about how the Tax Reform Act of 1986 will affect their 1987 income tax returns. That's why the IRS is presenting "Tax Changes '87: What You Need to Know," a special, one-hour television program to air on Saturday from 3-4 p.m. CST on Mississippi ETV.

"We feel this program is an excellent way to inform taxpayers about the tax law changes included in the Tax Reform Act of 1986," said IRS District Director, Tully Miller.

The program will be hosted by former NBC-TV newsmen, Edwin Newman, and feature two panels of tax experts, one made up of IRS tax specialists and the other, private practitioners.

World Conference to be viewed via satellite

Ecclesiastical leaders of local congregations of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormons) will be in Salt Lake City, Utah, on Oct. 3 and 4 to participate in the Church's 157th semiannual world conference.

Among those who will participate in the conference will be Byron Pope of Pascagoula, Second Counselor in the Stake Presidency of the Gulfport Mississippi Stake.

Pope will join other Church leaders from around the world to listen to counsel and direction given by top Church officials.

Participants from foreign countries will listen to the proceedings in their native languages by way of a translation system similar to the one used in United Nations Meetings.

The general membership of the Church will hear and see the four sessions of conference via special Church satellite and telephone networks.

The local chapels on Forrest Ave. in Biloxi, Martin St. in Pascagoula, and McLaurin St. in Waveland, are three of more than 1,000 such locations in the United States and Canada equipped with satellite dishes to receive live transmissions of the Oct. 3-4 sessions.

Interested persons are invited to view the telecasts at any one of the above addresses on Saturday, Oct. 3, 11 a.m.-1 p.m. and 3-5 p.m., and at the same times on Sunday, Oct. 4.

Each of the four sessions will feature different topics and speakers. For more information, interested persons are asked to contact the Church in their area as listed in the telephone directory.

Speakers for the conference will be selected from the general authorities of the Church, including the First Presidency and members of the Council of the Twelve Apostles. Church President Ezra Taft Benson, accepted by Church members as prophet, seer, and revelator, will preside over the conference.

The Mormon Tabernacle Choir will provide music for the Sunday sessions from Salt Lake City.

If the air conditioning were turned off in the Houston Astrodome, the entrance of warm humid air could cause it to rain in the stadium.

Food Pantry is UW's newest undertaking

Editor's Note: Following is the 11th in a series of articles being presented by the Sea Coast Echo on agencies which are partially funded by the United Way of Hancock County. The local United Way 1987 fundraising drive is currently underway. Lonnie Clayborn of Waveland is chairman of this year's drive. The goal is $65,000.

In May of 1986, the churches of Hancock County met and made plans to open a community food pantry. A state charter was obtained and the Civil Defense director offered free quarters.

The Episcopal Diocese of Mississippi made a donation for initial expenses, which at that time was only to have a telephone installed.

The Hancock County Food Pantry is operated entirely through donations and with the help of approximately 60 volunteer workers from churches in the area.

The only expenses are the phone bill and the staple food items which must be purchased. Bread is donated by local bakeries and it is kept in two donated used freezers.

Each church has a box in the vestibule for the deposit of nonperishable food items. These are brought to the Food Pantry, along with any cash donations.

Each applicant for food is required to bring a referral slip from the Welfare Department, a church, a doctor or any charitable organization.

They are interviewed and a four-to-six-day supply of food is bagged, according to the size of the family. The food bags contain canned meats, pork and beans, tomatoes, soup, tomato sauce, rice, beans, macaroni and cheese, flour, sugar, spaghetti, hand soap, and laundry and dish detergent.

In the 14 months the pantry has

Bay physician recognized

CHICAGO—John B. Levens, M.D., of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, has received the American Medical Association's Physician's Recognition Award (PRA), given to those doctors who have successfully completed during the past three years 150 hours of continuing medical education (CME).

Dr. Levens is in family practice in Bay St. Louis. He attended medical school at the University of Mississippi School of Medicine.

Physicians today face an ever-increasing need for CME credits, and the consequent Physician's Recognition Award, since proof of CME is required for reregistration of license to practice medicine in many states and for membership in 12 state medical societies. In order to receive the PRA, a physician must complete 150 hours of study.

The PRA is earned by physicians not only to meet strict state requirements, but also to enhance their knowledge and skills by maintaining a continuous course of study in modern advances in medical techniques.

K-9 service owner offers dog bite demonstration

Mississippi K-9 Service will sponsor a demonstration regarding the bites and jaws of different types of dogs, including pit bulldogs, beginning at 3 p.m. Sunday at the service's training ground on Harbor Drive north of Haywood Spiers Auto Salvage.

According to Mississippi K-9 Service Owner Martin DeSalvo, the demonstration is being presented due to a recent rash of reported pit bull attacks on people.

"I don't want the public to think that all dogs have the same deadly bite as this breed of dog," DeSalvo explained.

During the demonstration, DeSalvo will use protective equipment to show the differences and similarities between the bites of five types of dogs.

In addition to the pit bull, the dogs include a German shepherd, a Doberman pinscher, an Australian shepherd and a rottweiler.

All of the animals to be used in the demonstration are trained working dogs, DeSalvo added.

The public is invited to attend and more information about the demonstration is available at 467-1205.

The event was originally incorrectly listed as being scheduled on Sept. 27.

Coast Mental Health Center observing awareness week

Mental illness is reality for some 29.4 million Americans who will suffer from a mental or emotional disorder or substance abuse addiction in any given six months. During Mental Illness Awareness Week, Oct. 4-10, Gulf Coast Mental Health Center points out that recovery is also a reality:

Nine in ten stricken with major depression or anxiety can recover;

Seven in ten suffering manic depression can return to normal lives;

Five in ten with schizophrenia can improve; one in four can recover.

Gulf Coast Mental Health Center, along with other members of the National Council of community Mental Health Centers, is joining with other national mental health organizations in observing the week.

According to Gulf Coast Mental Health Center Director Jeff Bennett, "Each year the total cost associated with the treatment of mental illness exceeds the costs associated with the treatment of cancer and heart disease. Mental Illness Awareness Week has been established to encourage people to recognize the signs and symptoms of disorders that afflict one out of every five Americans and to bring them to the realization that these disorders are highly treatable."

Gulf Coast Mental Health Center offers a network of comprehensive services to every resident of the four counties in Region XIII for Mental Health Retardation: Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River and Stone.

Program areas include mental health, mental retardation, and alcohol and drug misuse. Within these areas, professional staff provide consultation-education, crisis intervention, outpatient, inpatient, day treatment, and aftercare services.

Gulf Coast Mental Health Center will participate in the October Health Awareness Fair on Friday, Oct. 9, and the Mental Health Fair on Saturday, Oct. 10, both to be held at Edgewater Mall. The public is invited to stop by their booth and pick up information or ask questions about services available at the Gulf Coast Mental Health Center. Further information about services is also available by calling 863-1132.

RE: Adopt A Dog Month

Sheltered canines have bags packed

More than 13 million homeless, lost and abandoned canines are waiting to pack their bags and find a new home this October as Adopt-A-Dog Month returns for its seventh, important year.

Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland is one of 800 animal shelters nationwide where the pick of the litter is available during the month-long public service program, sponsored on behalf of the shelters by Meaty Bone Dog Biscuits and Jerky Treats Dog Snacks.

"We have many different dogs of all ages and sizes—from purebreds to mixed-breeds, and they're all healthy, happy dogs with one thing in common—they need a new home," said Cel Dumestre director of the Hancock County Animal Shelter.

"For most people, it's love at first sight when picking a canine companion," Dumestre explained. "But it is important to find a dog that will suit individual lifestyles. At the Hancock County Animal Shelter, we take extra care to match the perfect dog with each owner."

For example, Babe, an 11 month old registered Golden retriever, needs a place with lots of room to run, and someone willing to spend a lot of time training.

And we have mixed breed puppies, like a dauchund mix, a basset hound mix, and a full blooded Springer Spaniel. All need lots of love and a home.

According to Cel Dumestre, each new adopter during October will take home a "doggie bag" full of treats for both human and dog to share. Included is a dog skills training booklet which teaches both old and new dogs tricks, an official pet-gree which certifies the dog as a truly wonderful pet, and complimentary samples of Meaty Bone Dog Biscuits and Jerky Treats.

The Hancock Animal Shelter is open Tuesday thru Friday 10 a.m.-5 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m.-1 p.m. and is located on Gulfside Drive by Firestation No. 2 in Waveland off of St. Joseph St. Adoption fees are $10.00 and up, and that includes shots and wormings, depending upon the animal.

THE LARGEST EVER—The largest group of local industry and business leaders attended the Hancock County United Way's kick-off breakfast for the 1987 fund drive campaign held last week at the Wheel Inn Restaurant. Mississippi Supreme Court Justice J. Ruble Griffin was the featured speaker. Lonnie Clayborn is the campaign chairman with a goal of $65,000. Pat Harvill was the kick-off breakfast chairman. (Staff photo by Ellis Cuevas).

There will be two local high school Homecomings on Friday night.

The Tigers of Bay High and Hawks of Hancock North Central will be celebrating homecoming at their respective ball fields.

Hancock North Central will play host to the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws while Bay High will host the East Central Hornets.

Bay High, Hancock and Stanislaus were all winners last Friday, giving the Hancock County teams a 9-2 season thus far this season.

So, as you can see we have been having some exciting high school football games with many more to come.

The game between Hancock North Central and St. Stanislaus should be a very good one as the Hawks are unbeaten and the Rocks have only stumbled to a strong Louisiana team in opening play this season.

Head coach Irvin Favre's Hawks should be ready for the game, especially with a homecoming crowd in the stands; on the other side, Ken Lyons' Rock-A-Chaws should also draw good fan support.

The deciding factor may be which team really wants the victory the most or to whom the most breaks go to.

Bay High's Tigers have also been winning since stumbling in the opening game to highly-rated Stone County.

Fans should fill the stands for Bay High's homecoming and Head Coach Cleveland Williams' Tigers should be prepared for East Central, as the visitors would like to take a victory home.

The Pirates of Pass Christian will be traveling to play powerful Stone County Friday night.

This has been a poor season for Pass Christian and the Pirates will have to have several miracles to tame the Tomcats. In football anything can happen.

This Friday, with homecomings going on, there should be good fan support for all local teams. We know there are some folks split on which game to attend, but we hope this won't keep them from going to a game.

We hope to see you at the football game on Friday night.

We heard a presentation on Tuesday night made by Mac Haas on the need for a study on the possibility of consolidation of the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

I can recall an editorial written by the late Powell Glass, Sea Coast Echo publisher, many years ago supporting the unification of the two cities and he was almost 'run out of town,' as the old saying goes.

The attitudes of many people have now changed, and the possibility of a consolidation of the two cities needs to be studied.

A study may prove it is feasible or not possible, but it could possibly answer a lot of questions.

We wonder how the residents of Bay St. Louis and Waveland feel about a possible consolidation of the two cities.

Mississippi is jumping over other states in the highly competitive high technology race.

"Mississippi, it seems, is moving to get ahead of the high-tech parade. And, with that move, and just as suddenly, Mississippi's image is taking on a strange new glow—and attracting national attention," reported the Mississippi Economic Council in the Sept. 21 issue of Mississippi Business.

The state has made major accomplishments in winning high-tech research programs in the past few years. Some of these projects include the National Center for Physical Acoustics, the Space Remote Sensing Center, the Mississippi Polymer Institute, the Institute for Naval Oceanography, the Mississippi Technology Transfer Center, and the Advanced Scientific Computing Research Center.

"A new day is dawning in

Mississippi Economic Council

Mississippi," said Dr. David Murphree, president and chief executive officer of the Institute for Technology Development. "The state is in transition from a predominantly agriculturally-based economy to a technology-based economy."

Murphree said the state is surprising the rest of the nation with its quick advances in high tech.

Governor Bill Allain said the state has grown by leaps and bounds over

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON—For the first time in over 40 years, the Mississippi House is holding an open election of a speaker and the process seemingly is as painful as child birth.

Some had wondered when the sweeping rules changes limiting the powers of the speaker went through the House back last January if the House could make the new democratic phenomenon work.

Now the House is undergoing the first big test of its newfound democracy in the struggle to pick a successor to the once-powerful Speaker Buddie Newman. Newman, the Issaquena County farmer who had run the House with an iron hand the last 12 years, had kept alive the Old Guard begun by Walter Sillers back in 1944.

The style of Sillers and Newman was to avoid an open election by locking up a majority of signed commitments as soon as the legislative primaries were over in August.

Only once was Sillers ever challenged, that in 1956 by a young representative named William Winter of Grenada County, but the outcome was a foregone conclusion when then incoming Gov. J. P. Coleman declined to help Winter, who had campaigned for Coleman.

After eight months of a shakedown process that once included as many as 10 candidates for the Speaker's post, two have emerged as the apparent finalists—two-term Rep. Tim Ford of Tupelo, and 20-year veteran Rep. Ed Perry of Oxford. Some, however, don't believe the field is closed.

Although Ford was one of the "House 74" who voted for the rules changes in January, and Perry, the longtime Appropriations Committee chairman didn't, the clash is not a clearcut Rebel versus Old Guard struggle.

Ford is the favorite of most of the House reformers, but certainly not all. Perry, who had never been regarded as a close Newman lieutenant, is generally well liked by most members, even the reformers.

But reformers say Perry has most of the remaining Old Guardsmen in his camp. They contend that to follow through with the reforms, the next speaker should be elected from their group.

Significantly, among Perry's supporters are Rep. John Grisham of Southaven and Rep. Mike Mills, who were elected to the House in 1983 on a out-and-out anti-Old Guard platform, and were in the "House 26" who made a courageous, but losing battle to change the House rules in 1984.

Ford had not been in the "House 26" and was something of a late-comer to the rules revision forces which pulled off the rules reform in the 1987 session.

In fact, Ford had been very much part of the Newman team most of the time he has been in the House since he was regarded as a protégé of the late Rep. A. C. "Butch" Lambert, Newman's former chief lieutenant. Newman had rewarded

Ford with chairmanship of the House Elections and Apportionment Committee after his first term.

The selection of Ford as the "consensus" candidate by the House reformers was something of a surprise after Rep. Rick Fortenberry of Meridian, the favorite of most of the group, declined to seek the speakership.

There was no doubt last week after the release of names of 50 members who are backing Ford that the Tupelo lawmaker is ahead of Perry in the vote-getting at this point, and seems well within striking distance of the 62 votes it will take to be elected. However, most insiders believe the outcome still depends on the outcome of elections for 35 House posts up for grabs on Nov. 3.

Some fear that the easy-going Ford does not have enough of a commanding presence to control the sometimes rowdy and often recalcitrant members of the Mississippi lower chamber.

Others have expressed the view that Ford may not be a strong enough leader to pit against the opposite end of the Capitol—the Senate—where Lieutenant Gov. Brad Dye is expected to again control the power.

Rep. Cecil Simmons of Maben, who became the speaker pro tempore after the rules changes created the post over Newman's objections last January, however, is regarded as the "strong" part of the team.

Simmons, who has come out openly in support of Ford, had made a commitment to the reformers early-on that he was not taking the job of pro tem in order to move up to speaker, and he has been faithful to that pledge.

However, Simmons' open backing of Ford has drawn fire from some reformers who are backing Perry. There were some rumblings last week that Perry may back Rep. Glenn Endris of Biloxi for pro tem in opposition to Simmons.

Endris' name is still in the picture for the speakership as an alternative to both Ford and Perry. School teacher forces in the coastal area are trying to build support for Endris, whom they contend is a better friend of public education than either of the other two.

There is also grumbling from Gulf Coast lawmakers that with a team of Ford as speaker and Simmons as pro tem, both of the House leadership posts would be held by the Northeast area of the state.

Grisham, one of Perry's campaign leaders, contended last week there were already indications the speakership fight will lead to a "bloodletting" over committee assignments after it is over.

Closely watching the developments from the sidelines were business and industry lobbyists who were opposed to the rules changes to begin with. They would like to see the experiment in democracy fail and business return to the old ways.

the past three or four years in high technology.

State officials soon will begin a media campaign to educate the nation on the advances in Mississippi as part of the state's effort to win the $4.4 billion Superconducting Super Collider project.

Mississippi Business, MEC's monthly business newspaper, included a special report on the state's efforts in high technology in the September 21 issue.

Mississippi State Fair slated Oct. 7-18

The 1987 Mississippi State Fair is scheduled to open Wednesday, Oct. 7 at the fairgrounds complex in Jackson for a 12-day run.

Once again, the State Fair commission is pleased to present one of the country's longest running fairs now in its 128th year," said Agriculture Commissioner Jim Buck Ross, who also chairs the fair commission, sponsor of the fair.

Ross continued, "The fair continues to attract the best activities, competitions and entertainment found anywhere."

"Highlighting the opening of this year's fair will be the shooting of a man from a cannon onto the fairgrounds," said Billy Orr, Director of the State Fair Commission and Manager of the fairgrounds complex.

The fair begins at 5 p.m. Oct. 7 at Gate No. 1, the Jefferson Street entrance.

"From opening day until the fair ends on Sunday, Oct. 18th, fairgoers will find plenty to see and do," Orr said.

Horse shows, livestock competitions, a mule and horse pull, stock dog trails, sheep and hog judging are also part of the fair.

Tommy Strickland, livestock manager, said, "A major attraction at each year's fair is the livestock competitions, which are free. As always, we've got some superb animals in these competitions."

This year's fair boasts some new attractions including daily pig races on the midway. In addition, there'll be plenty of old favorites like free circus acts, square dancing, the fiddlers and liars contest, the state fair talent contest and free entertainment.

Exhibits, arts and crafts, a talent show for youngsters, a high school rodeo, dance/drill team competition, cheerleader competition, an antique car and engine show, biscuit and syrup making, the Pepsi Petting Zoo, the Newport Mini-Fair, and the Children's Barnyard are a few of the many attractions also awaiting fairgoers.

Legendary country performers Conway Twitty and Loretta Lynn share billing in a 7:30 p.m. concert Saturday, Oct. 10 in the Coliseum. Tickets are $15 and all seats are reserved.

Alabama, one of country music's top musical groups, bring their show to the Coliseum at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 14th. Tickets are $17.00 and all seats are reserved. Joining Alabama will be Restless Heart and Michael Johnson.

Power 'Pull '87 rolls into the Mississippi Coliseum, with performances at 7:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday Oct. 16 and 17 and a 2:30 p.m. performance on Sunday, Oct. 18. Tickets are $10 for adults and $6 for children under 12.

Purchasing advance tickets to the Coliseum events entitles fairgoers to free fair admission. Parking will be $1.

Tickets are on sale at the Coliseum Box Office and the usual outlets.

Free concerts are scheduled to include Jerry Clower, Gene Watson & True Value Regional Talent Showdown, Keith Whitley, Sims Brothers Band, Jackie Thompson with Tony McGill and the Hour of the 50's, Leather and Lace, Linton & Troye, Lee King Show, Nightshift, Bellamy Brothers, Zapp Band, Sawyer Brown, Highway 101, Christy Rose and Tammy Wynette. There will also be gospel groups the Branches, The Singing Americans and the Lesters and the U.S. Air Force Bands.

Advance admission tickets are available at the Coliseum Box Office. Five tickets, a $10 value for $6 are on sale for fairgoers 12 and over. Five tickets, a $5 value, can be purchased for $3 for children age 6 through 11.

Daily gate admissions $2 per person, 12 years or older from 12:30 p.m. until closing. Admission is $1 for children 6 through 11. Children under five are admitted free. Parking is $1 per car.

SNEAK-A-PEEK, from 5 p.m. until 11 p.m. on the fair's opening day, is the beginning special for fairgoers where fairgoers can ride unlimited rides for only $8 and be admitted to the fairgrounds for only $1. Parking is $1.

MIDNIGHT MADNESS returns on Friday Oct. 9 and Friday, Oct. 16.

After 11 p.m., gate admission is $1 and fairgoers can ride unlimited rides for only $9 per person. Midnight Madness ends both evenings at 3 a.m.

Another special will be KIDS DAY on Oct. 16 with 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. reduced ride prices. Students will get in free to the fairgrounds. A book of 20 ride coupons, a $10 value, can be purchased for only $7.

A busload of fairgoers will be admitted daily for $10 including parking, and all military in uniform will be admitted to the fair free any time.

Bits on Books (Cookbooks, that is)

By KATY CAIRE

Somebody out there is trying to give me a message, several messages in fact, all healthful and interesting—judging by the spate of books which have crossed my desk recently. Among them:

"Total Health and Food Power" by Rose Budd Ludlow (Woodbridge Press Publishing Co., Santa Barbara, Ca., soft cover, $7.95) combines a health plan with a delightful cookbook; stresses the advantages of being a vegetarian, and of the proper amount of exercise.

Other chapters discuss eating for a happy heart, coping with stress, dietary factors in cancer prevention, among others.

Book

"Transfiguration Diet" (from Littlegreen Inc. Mesa, Ariz., paperback, $7.95) is not solely a weight-loss program, though it helps bring one down to ideal weight, according to this book.

Instead, it is a total nutrition program, a "vegetarian approach to a toxin-free body," in the words of the Littlegreen "Think Tank" team which compiled the book.

The book is a result of the findings of an 11-year study of foods and nutrition, and suggests natural diets for health, with a list of Yea and Nay foods for better health. Also included is a chapter of recipes and pointers, quite helpful and interesting.

"Diet Cookbook" by Hannelore Blohm and H.D. Cremer, M.D. (Barron's, Woodbury, hard cover, $8.95) is a chock-full of innovative and often unusual dishes, with colorful illustrations of most of them, a combination diet plan and cookbook—a roadmap for losing those pounds without giving up all the pleasures of good eating.

Hannelore Blohm, food writer and editor for leading German newspapers and author of several other cookbooks, is "proof of the pudding"—losing 38 pounds in six months using these recipes!

Dr. Hans-Diedrich Cremer, nutrition specialist, helped design Germany's first university program in basic nutrition. The book was translated from the German by Helen Feingold, for this first English edition.

"Slim and Fit Cooking" (also from Barron's, hard cover, $9.95) is edited by Barbara Crawford, and is part of Barron's "Step-By-Step Cooking series.

Like others in the series, this book is an inspiration to the diet conscious cook in flight from cottage cheese and celery sticks. There are a number of delicious choices and out-of-the-ordinary ideas, with full color illustrations accompanying each recipe and its step-by-step directions.

As a further boon to the cook, recipes are coded according to preparation time, cost factor, level of difficulty, and calorie count.

Far from a "crank health food" book, as some can be this, is proof that not all the good things in life are forbidden to dieters or would-be dieters!

Motions being heard in capital murder case, trial to follow

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Pre-trial motions continue in the capital murder trial of Jeffrey Joseph Ladner, 30, of River Ridge, La. in Hancock County Circuit Court.

Due to an agreement between Judge James Thomas, attorneys and representatives of area newspapers, certain pre-trial motions will be published only after the trial begins.

Ladner is facing two counts of capital murder in connection with the shooting deaths of Jeannette Holden and Dorothy G. Tassin of Hancock County last November.

He was charged with capital murder after being identified as offering to sell a ring belonging to Holden to a Metairie jewelry store. Other items belonging to Holden were also found in Ladner's apartment, according to investigators.

Jury selection is expected to be conducted this week following the pre-trial motions.

News Brief

INTEREST RATES INCREASE

The Internal Revenue Service has announced that interest rates for the calendar quarter beginning Oct. 1 will increase from eight to nine percent for overpayments and from nine to ten percent for underpayments.

Under the Tax Reform Act of 1986 the rate of interest is determined on a quarterly basis and the rate on underpayments will be one percent higher than the rate on overpayments. The new rate is based on the Federal short-term rate determined during July 1987.

By happy coincidence the other day, as I was relaxing awhile after shelling fresh shrimp destined for a tomato-ey shrimp stew, I came across a recipe for shrimp stew a bit on the out-of-the-usual side, and promptly altered my plans.

I had been reading through a slim, soft-cover recipe and memoir combination, "Clasen Cooking" which had started as a sampling of recipes, for a family reunion, but had turned into an account of memories of the Clasen clan, complete with photographs gathered through the years.

It brought back memories to me, too, of a long friendship with Glenn and Anna Marie (re) Clasen, going back to the days when Glenn was an outstanding councilman in New Orleans. So, I was delighted when they gave my son, Jack McGuire, a copy of this privately printed family recipe book for me which Jack promptly dispatched to me.

There are a number of good recipes in this book, ranging from unusual appetizers all the way to special desserts, with those perennial favorites of the South, Pecan Pie and Pralines as the finale.

The Tugboat Shrimp Stew, creation and contribution of Charlie Clasen, a Mississippi River pilot and Glenn's nephew, is, as he says, "different—most shrimp stews are red gravy stews." So, try:

TUGBOAT SHRIMP STEW

Charlie wrote: "I'm including this recipe because it's good, it's easy, it's different and it's quick—45 minutes total time."

So, in his words, proceed thus: "Drop a half stick of oleo in a pot over medium heat—when hot, add 1 large or 2 medium onions, chopped—½ tsp. whole thyme, 1 stick celery with leaves, chopped, and ½ green pepper, chopped.

"Sweat this down together for 20 minutes or until onions are clear. Add 6 toes chopped garlic. Stir. While all this is sweating down, in another skillet, add ¼ inch olive oil, get it hot and add 2 Tbsp. flour, to make a dark brown roux. Stir often. Add this to onion mix and stir.

Add 2 pounds medium shrimp. Stir, and add two cups hot water. Stir, and 1 chicken bouillon cube, 4 chopped shallots (I use green onions) 1 Tbsp. soy sauce, a handful of parsley and a little black pepper and a little red pepper (Birdseye).

Add 2 diced Irish potatoes, cover and simmer. Serve over rice. A real "rib-sticker."

Charlie further comments, "This was a tugboat recipe that we ate quite often. Of course, we only had a couple of pounds of shrimp to feed four or five hungry guys—that's where the potatoes and the long gravy over rice help fill in the holidays."

This dark roux-based shrimp stew is indeed a tasty change from the red gravy stew.

Caplinger selected to head New Orleans

post

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Immigration and Naturalization Service reports selection of John B.Z. Caplinger as new district director of the INS New Orleans District Office.

The selection was announced by INS Commissioner Alan C. Nelson during an annual conference in Washington of district directors and Border Patrol chiefs from throughout the country.

Headquartered in New Orleans, the INS District Office has jurisdiction of a five-state area which includes Arkansas, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Louisiana.

The district, with 237 employees, also has satellite offices in Louisville, Ky.; Memphis, Tenn.; and Oakdale, La.

Caplinger, 40, is a native of New Orleans. He began his INS career in the U.S. Border Patrol in 1970, stationed in Harlingen, Texas. During his 17-year service, Caplinger has also held posts in the Investigation and Anti-Smuggling Divisions in Harlingen and Dallas, Texas.

"John is an extremely dynamic young man who brings progressive leadership to the New Orleans District," stated Nelson. "Caplinger will combine a wealth of INS experience with a strong sensitivity to the needs of the states and localities in the area."

"With tasks facing INS officers because of new immigration law, the service needs knowledgeable and personable people like John," said INS Southern Regional Commissioner Stephen H. Martin of Dallas in congratulating Caplinger. "We are happy to have him aboard."

Caplinger will begin his new responsibility upon his return to New Orleans on Monday.

He is a resident of Hancock County. His wife Judy is the daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Chester Curvey of Waveland.

The Caplingers have two children, Roger and Dena.

Salt water intrusion no problem in Bay St. Louis

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Bay St. Louis officials say there is very little chance of problems with salt water intrusion in city water as are currently being experienced in other Gulf Coast cities.

Department of Public Works Director Norbert Redmond said Wednesday, no problems with salt water intrusion are foreseeable for the Bay St. Louis water system.

In fact, according to Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz, Bay St. Louis' water tests for salt show the levels from below normal standards.

"There is a more plentiful water supply moving from east to west on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and we do not have nearly as much consumption of ground water," Mayor Victor J. Frankiewicz said.

"Also, the fact that Bay St. Louis has an ideal location hydrologically is a reason salt water intrusion is not expected to be a problem here any time in the near future," Redmond added.

"As the city continues to grow this could become a problem if ground-water consumption is not controlled," Frankiewicz said.

According to Frankiewicz, the method to preventing these problems is proper control of ground-water consumption.

Major industries should utilize surface water supplies and save the good ground water for drinking water, he added.

The Bay St. Louis system is also currently being improved with the construction of a new water well with a pumping capacity of 1,000 gallons per minute and looping the system in the city will also help insure there are no problems in the system, he said.

News Briefs

FARMWEEK

Each year more and more double-crested cormorants come south to spend the winter. Some of their favorite "watering holes" are the commercial catfish ponds in Mississippi. Apparently these unwelcome tourists think the climate is ideal and the food is great.

From October to March each year, these migratory, federally protected birds plague the catfish farmers. "Farmweek" will present a report on this threat to the state's catfish industry at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 5.

The farmers cannot kill the cormorants since the birds are federally protected. Their most effective means of driving the birds away is a type of artificial noise-making.

MUSCADINE/BLUEBERRY

A meeting concerning new financing opportunities for muscadine and blueberry growers will be held in Laurel on Oct. 9.

An "Emerging Crop Bill" was passed recently by the state legislature. This bill offers one form of financing for such crops as muscadine and blueberries.

For information about this meeting, call Guy Feltenstein with the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce, at the toll-free number 1-800-233-1736.

Astronauts, users to get early look at Space Station

Representatives of space agencies in Europe, Japan and Canada, NASA officials, U.S. astronauts, designers and potential users of the permanently manned Space Station will meet at NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala. on Oct. 2 for an early look at the Space Station.

Although the Space Station will not be operational until the mid-1990's, attendees of the Space Station Laboratory Workshop at Marshall Center will be able to enter full-scale engineering mock-ups of the U.S. Laboratory Module and Habitation Module to see first-hand what living and working in the Space Station will be like.

Attendees will receive briefings on the Space Station Laboratory Module and discuss its potential use. They will tour the Space Station mock-ups and discuss how they may be used during the detailed design and construction of the Space Station. More than 100 attendees are expected.

Once in orbit, the U.S. Laboratory will be the site of important research and development work conducted to understand and characterize the effects of near zero gravity on people and materials.

Experiments on the STS/Spacelab have shown that new hi-tech materials with vastly enhanced properties can be made in the low gravity environment of space.

Application research and development in the U.S. Laboratory will build on this knowledge to produce electronics, pharmaceuticals, and alloys not possible to make on earth.

The knowledge gained from Life Sciences experiments in the U.S. Laboratory into the effects of low gravity on human beings is essential in planning manned missions to the planets.

Marshall Center's high fidelity mock-up of the Laboratory Module is equipped much like the actual module will be, complete with a centrifuge, glove box, computerized work stations, a shower and more.

The Habitation Module mock-up contains crew quarters, waste management and medical facilities, and an eating/meeting area.

The mock-ups will serve as a training ground for astronauts, scientists and engineers who will work aboard the Space Station.

At the present time—and for some years to come—the mock-ups primarily serve as engineering aids for concept and definition planning.

As the years progress, the mock-ups will evolve with the actual design of the Space Station. Once the fidelity of the ground-based elements matches the Station in orbit, the mock-ups will be used as a training center for future Space Station workers.

The Marshall Center has responsibility for construction of all U.S. modules—the crew quarters, U.S. laboratory and logistics module—the interconnecting passageways and the life support system.

Circus complaints lead to consideration of fairgrounds lease

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has turned a request for a standard lease on the Hancock County Fairgrounds over to its attorney and the Hancock County Fair Commission.

The attorney, Gerald Gex, said Tuesday that he will work with the commission to devise a standard contract that will provide the county and its citizens with more protection when outside interests rent the facility.

The board made the decision after hearing from two spokespersons for a group of parents upset by what they found when they attended a Saturday performance of the Toby Tyler Circus.

Arthur Paulk told the board and Fair Commission President Walter Turcotte that problems Saturday included overselling of tickets, charging spectators to park on county property and failure to provide restrooms.

Turcotte explained that this particular circus had contacted the commission secretary, Ethel Breaux, back in April to find out if the Sept. 26 date was free, then the commission approved a one-day lease for $150 in its usual manner.

Beth Scarborough, a Harrison County woman who took three children to the event, said she found the circus to be a firetrap and decided to leave.

"There were people everywhere. They were actually in the ring with the animals."

"It took us 10 minutes just to get out. After 10 minutes I was able to grab a clown and say 'get us out of here.'"

"We just want you to be aware of this so it will never happen again. She said the tickets for the children were provided free through their school."

Paulk said he had contacted the superintendents of both the Bay St. Louis-Waveland and Hancock County districts, and found that neither had done any research on the Toby Tyler Circus before distributing the tickets.

Paulk said he was particularly concerned about such organizations having insurance.

Turcotte said the commission "assumes" that circuses, carnivals and other people who rent the fairgrounds have insurance, but does not require insurance in its lease agreements because the facilities are also often rented to local citizens for events such as wedding receptions.

"It would be a little hard to require insurance for a wedding reception," he said.

"We are not concerned with weddings or the farmer's market because they are people from inside this county and they are putting money back into the county. We are concerned about outside interests," Paulk explained.

Fire Marshall Jay Marsh said he could have inspected the circus for fire code violations but did not know until "it was already gone."

For many events, some type of police protection or traffic control is provided through the sheriff's department, but Turcotte said it is the lessee who must make that request rather than the commission.

In addition, the building on the grounds may be unlocked to provide restrooms, but was not on Saturday because it was not part of the lease.

On Saturday night, Paulk and a group of the people who attended the circus went to the home of Beat Four Supervisor Sam Perniciaro at about 10:30 p.m., but Perniciaro was unable to provide any assistance at that time, other than to contact Turcotte.

"I regret the way this happened. If we had known earlier, we could have contacted (Sheriff) Ronnie Peterson to try to remedy the situation," Turcotte said.

With regard to the overselling of tickets and the fact that some people were sold higher priced tickets for "preferred seating" but were still either unable to get in or unable to see, Paulk has contacted the State Attorney General's office.

The Mississippi attorney general is working with the Florida attorney general's office to try to recover some of the funds the circus collected in Hancock County.

The supervisors meet again at 9 a.m. Monday in the upstairs boardroom of the Hancock County Courthouse.

However, Gex did not say Tuesday when he would be able to meet with the fairgrounds association to discuss a proposed lease contract.

Bay-Waveland school board approves final plans for addition

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Board has agreed to advertise for bids on the first phase of the district's long range building program.

The board met Tuesday afternoon with Architect Fred Wagner to discuss the final plans for an addition to the existing Waveland school. The bid opening for the project has been tentatively set for 2 p.m. Oct. 29.

The final plans for the addition are basically unchanged from the preliminary plans for the project, Wagner stated.

The addition will include eight classroom, two common areas, and related facilities such as restrooms, janitorial closets and storage areas. The addition will be in a separate building but will be connected to the existing building by an enclosed walkway.

The back of the building will open into the school's larger playground, Wagner said.

In addition to the newspaper advertisement that is required under state bidding regulations, Wagner said the project will be advertised in various trade publications to help attract bidders.

Later phases of the long-term building program will include improvements or additions at Bay Junior High, Bay Senior High and North Bay Elementary schools.

The board's next regular meeting is 7 p.m. Oct. 12 in the superintendent's boardroom at Bay Senior High School.

Clermont Harbor Methodists plan week-long revival

A week-long revival featuring seven coastal Methodist pastors and leaders will start Sunday night at Clermont Harbor United Methodist Church, according to Rev. Alton R. Farley, pastor of the host church.

Services will start at 7 p.m., preceded by a prayer meeting at 6:30 p.m. nightly. Fellowship and refreshments will follow the services.

Special music will be provided by guest artists, Rev. Farley said.

Among those who will bring messages are Rev. Oliver McLean, Wiggins circuit pastor; Harold Boudages, Clermont Harbor UMC; Rev. Wilton Holston, pastor of Main Street UMC, Bay St. Louis, and of Waveland UMC; Rev. Arthur Lewis, pastor of Valena C. Jones UMC, Bay St. Louis; Rev. Robert Nay, pastor of First UMC, Pass Christian, and Rev. Calvin Jackson, pastor of Delisle UMC and St. Paul UMC, Pass Christian.

Ole Miss M-Club alumni to meet honors set for 1947, '62 Rebels

The University of Mississippi M-Club Alumni Chapter will hold its annual fall meeting Saturday, Oct. 3, on the Oxford campus.

The occasion will honor the 1962 Ole Miss football team's 25th anniversary and the 1947 team's 40th. Both teams were Southeastern Conference champions.

The general M-Club Alumni Chapter meeting will convene in the Alumni House auditorium at 10:30 a.m. Highlights of the meeting include presentations on spring sports by Ole Miss coaches and an overview of "The Drive for Athletics at Ole Miss."

Prior to the general meeting, the club's board of directors will meet in the Alumni House board room at 9:30 a.m. and a film of highlights from the 1962 football season will be shown in the Alumni House auditorium at 10.

All former Ole Miss lettermen are encouraged to attend the meeting.

Oddly enough, the record for the biggest crowd ever to attend a football game was NOT set at a college or pro football game as you'd expect, but at a high school game...The all-time football attendance record was at Soldier Field, Chicago, Nov. 27, 1937, when 125,000 people came to see a high school playoff game.

Incredibly, there was once a National Football League game when one team got behind 21-0 BEFORE THEY EVEN HAD THEIR FIRST PLAY FROM SCRIMMAGE! It happened in 1975...San Diego kicked off the Cincinnati, and Cincinnati marched down the field for a touchdown...San Diego then fumbled the next 2 kickoffs and both were turned into touchdowns by Cincinnati. Thus, the score was 21-0 before San Diego ran their first scrimmage play...They were virtually out of the game before they could get started...Final score was 47-17.

Here's an unbelievable football record that may never be broken...Placekicker Tommy Davis kicked extra points for the San Francisco 49ers for 7 CONSECUTIVE YEARS WITHOUT EVER MISSING ONE...Davis booted 234 extra points in a row from 1959 through 1965—and never missed during that time...Nobody has topped that record, before or since.

'Blue Goose Strategy' wins National Hobie Championship for Bay-trained sailor

Don Estapa, Bay St. Louis native and resident of Arden, NC, topped 40 other skippers to win the 1987 Hobie 18 National Championship held recently on Lake Mille Lacs near Garrison, Minn.

Estapa and crew John Beach used what Estapa called "the famous Blue Goose" strategy to overtake series leader Mike Rayfuse of Pleasanton, California.

Rayfuse seemed to be the obvious winner after a week in the hot, humid weather of summer Minnesota. He had mastered the moderate winds to finish well in every race.

His only stumble came in the sixth race when he crossed the start line early and failed to exonerate himself, earning a throwout score of 40. But, with a lead of 11.75 points over Estapa, Rayfuse still had reason to feel confident going into Saturday's final two races.

That was before the "Blue Goose" strategy was cooked. "We just went to this little cafe called the Blue Goose," said Estapa. "We sat in there and planned it all out."

Figuring that Rayfuse already had his worse throwout of 40 points, compared with Estapa's throwout of 10 points, Estapa and Beach knew Rayfuse's effort could not stand another heavy blow.

"At the start of the first race of the day, we both headed away from the rest of the fleet and ended up about 300 yards from the line with a minute to go. Then we tacked and started for the line and both of us got good starts.

"We both tacked and we stated a cover. Rayfuse tacked again and just then the wind split giving us a lift all the way to the first weather mark."

Estapa rounded the mark near the leaders, exactly where the Blue Goose strategy said he did not want to be.

When Estapa arrived at the next mark, he simply stopped and waited. Sixteen boats later, Rayfuse rounded. "It was very exciting," said Francie Jarvis, the multihull advisor to United States Yacht Racing Union who worked on the race committee.

"I've never seen a sailor just stop. Estapa sat on him heavily, pushing him further and further back. Rayfuse was confused and by the time he rounded the leeward mark, Rayfuse was back beyond 30th place."

At the next to last rounding, however, Rayfuse had had enough and flew a protest flag accusing Estapa of tacking into his water. "We went ahead and did a 360 and then just kept going to do a 720 (penalty turns) just to be safe," said Estapa who had already accomplished his goal and saw no reason to fight the protest.

Rayfuse managed to catch some boats, but finished 26th. Estapa simply threw out his 33 to take first place with 46.75, while Rayfuse floundered with 51 points. Estapa went on to win the last race of the series and finish with 47.50 to Rayfuse's 56.

Estapa's consistent sailing also helped him to the win. Primarily a lake sailor in the hills of North and South Carolina, Estapa credited his lake experience. "This lake had a personality and we figured it out quickly. We knew the winds were stronger along the shore so we sailed for that."

Estapa's early training as a sailor came on the choppy waters of Bay St. Louis where his peers at the time are Gulf Coast Champions today.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Estapa of Bay St. Louis.

The other sailors in Estapa's Hobie Cat division were thrilled with his victory. "The guys in the division have been calling," said Estapa. "They're happy to see me win. Especially since I lose to them sometimes."

Estapa's dramatics were supplemented by the appearance of "Team Bulk." Rob and Steve Dubbs, sons of the owner of Izaty's, the host resort.

The brothers earned their name by weighing in at a combined total of 563 pounds. Team Bulk finished near the back of the fleet—when they decided to sail—but kept the others in stitches during the regatta.

"They decorated the entire hotel for Christmas in July. The brothers even sailed one race in Santa hats, and Steve performed the best awards ceremony I've seen. They were some of the most charming, intelligent and creative hosts of any event I've been to," said Jarvis.

"Pensacola, Fla. has been selected as the site for the 1988 Hobie 18 U.S. National Championship."

In addition, the USYRU has chosen the Hobie 18 as the boat for its 1988 multihull championship.

Sailors interested in the Hobie 18 championship should contact the World Hobie Class Association at 619-758-9100, or write WHCA, P.O. Box 1008, Oceanside, CA 92054.

Those interested in the 1988 multihull championship should write USYRU, Box 209, Newport, Rhode Island 02840.

Best prep contest to date scheduled at Hawk Stadium

Two football teams which have been enjoying much success this season will meet this Friday when the Hancock North Central Hawks entertain the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws in Hawk Stadium. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m.

Coach Irvin Favre's Hawks are 3-0 on the season, coming off a convincing 51-0 win over Pass Christian Pirates last week, and are looking for a homecoming victory this week.

At St. Stanislaus, Coach Ken Lyons' squad is 3-1 after defeating the Long Beach Bearcats 23-14 last week at Rockchaw Stadium.

"The Hawks run a Wing-T formation, with a lot of misdirection in their offense," said Coach Lyons. "They are a well-coached ball club. It requires a lot of time to prepare adequately for them."

"We are concerned about our preparation, as the rain has forced us to work inside during the week."

The Rockchaws have worked on their offensive play timing to get ready for Hancock. Coach Lyons said it would take a "super effort" to beat the Hawks.

"Every week the caliber of our opponents goes up," said Coach Lyons. "Hancock is the most solid ball club that we have faced this year."

With cool weather expected for Friday's game, the stands should be filled on both sides.

Hancock North Central's homecoming court will be presented at halftime.

PUNT RETURN—SSC's Nick Rumore, 31, returns a Bay High punt for good field position in 4th Quarter action in the SSC-Bay High 7th & 8th Grade game Monday.

In hot pursuit is Bay High center Gerrit Carver, 51. Trailing the play is Murat Hatipoglu, 41, SSC won, 34-6

County rivals Hancock Stanislaus to clash

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Hancock North Central Hawks will be facing oldtime rival, the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws for Homecoming Friday at the Hawk stadium.

HNC Head Coach Irvin Favre says Rockchaws have "the best-looking, best-organized team" he has seen from Stanislaus in many years.

"Stanislaus Coach Kenny Lyons has done an outstanding job getting the team organized," he said.

Favre says he knows first hand how Lyons can organize a team because Favre did his student teaching under Lyons at Pass Christian.

"Lyons offensive organization abilities are really showing now because Stanislaus has one heck of an offensive line," he added.

The Rockchaws' offense has been putting points on the board, averaging 20 points per game.

"Stanislaus will be a very hard team to defense in just one particular way," Favre added.

"We can't look just to stop the pass because their offense will hurt you on the run," he said.

"Anytime you talk about Stanislaus, you must talk about their skilled people, and there are a lot of them," he said.

Favre says the combination of Stanislaus Split End Freddy Wirstrom and Wingback Shannon

Garrett is a very strong offensive pass-receiving duo.

Rock Quarterback Ya Sin Shabazz is a quick and experienced quarterback and will very hard to contain, he added.

Favre also commented on the excellent performances given by Jorge Ponjuan as halfback and Gino Ascani as tailback.

"Overall Stanislaus is the best team we have seen so far and we are very concerned about what they can do," Favre said.

"Stanislaus just has a good solid offensive team, and it will come down to who will play the better defense," Favre said.

Both teams will be able to move the ball and Favre believes there will be a lot of scoring from both teams.

"It will be definitely be an exciting ballgame and the people in Hancock County will miss a good ballgame if they don't come out," he said.

Both teams have a lot on the line and a lot to prove, Favre stated.

The Hawks are currently undefeated and ranked 20th in the state ranking of the top 20 high school football teams.

Stanislaus has a season record of 3-1 and are riding high on the thrill of these victories.

Kickoff will be 7:30 p.m. in the Hawk stadium.

SSC 7th/8th Grade Team defeats Bay

Running back Mickey Quinlan scored four times to lead the St. Stanislaus 7th and 8th Grade football Team to a 34-6 victory over visiting Bay High on Monday evening.

Quinlan opened the scoring for the Rocks in the first quarter with a 52-yard burst off tackle, with holes opened on the line by Mike Davidge and Tate Thriffley. The extra point by Jose Rugarcia was good and the Rocks led 7-0.

In the second quarter, fullback Jason Loiacano executed a good block on the defensive end to spring Quinlan for a 28-yard touchdown run. Rugarcia's extra point was good, and the Rocks increased their lead to 14-0.

Just before halftime, Quinlan again broke off right tackle for a 32-yard score. Darrin Rose kicked the extra point, giving the Rocks a 21-0 lead at half.

In the third quarter, the Rocks used good line blocking to spring Quinlan on a 46-yard run for a touchdown. Rose kicked his second extra point and the Rocks were up, 28-0.

The final score for the Rocks was set up by Nick Rumore's punt return down the sidelines to the Bay High 39-yard line. Bryce Gex scooted around right end for the touchdown, after taking quarterback Bill Dreher's pitchout. The extra point was no good. The Rocks led 34-0 with less than two minutes left.

Bay High took the kickoff and drove down the field for their touchdown. With 15 seconds left on the clock, Tiger running back David Babineau broke up the middle for a nine yard touchdown. The extra point was no good, and the game ended 34-6 in favor of St. Stanislaus.

The next game for the 7th and 8th Grade Rockchaws, now 2-1 for the season, will be this coming Monday at 5:30 p.m. at Rockchaw stadium. Following this contest will be a Junior Varsity game between St. Stanislaus and Pope John Paul.

TOUCHDOWN RUN—Mickey Quinlan, 13, breaks free on one of his four scoring runs for St. Stanislaus. The Rocks scored in every quarter to take a 34-6 victory over the visiting Bay High Tigers.

Bay High to host Hornets in 1987 Homecoming clash

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay High Tigers celebrate Homecoming 1987 Friday night, hosting the East Central Hornets at McCullough Field.

The game is also the Tigers' last district and conference game for this year, Bay High Head Coach Cleveland Williams said.

The Hornets are presently 0-3 and are going into their first conference game, the coach said. The Tigers are 3-1, with their only loss being to Stone County.

Despite a losing record, the Hornets can be tough, Williams added.

"The Hornets have a respectable ballclub which has shown a lot of improvement while losing to teams including Clara High School, George County High School and St. John High School, where the game was 8-7 last week," he said.

He said, East Central's strong points include a versatile quarterback the Tigers will have to control.

This particular player has both a good passing arm and the ability to run the ball well on the option, allowing the Hornets to use a balanced attack against their opponents.

The passing game is augmented by tall receivers with good hands, Williams added.

The coach said Bay High will go into the game without Buddy Bourne, who is injured, and with Dante Curry expected to see only limited action.

"We have worked hard this week in preparation for the Hornets. We respect the Hornets ballclub because of the athletes and because we respect any team who operates a balanced attack," Williams said.

"The Tigers had a big win last week over the Bulldogs and I feel that we need an even better effort this week against the Hornets. Our attack against the opponents must be a balanced one because of the quickness and aggressiveness of their defense."

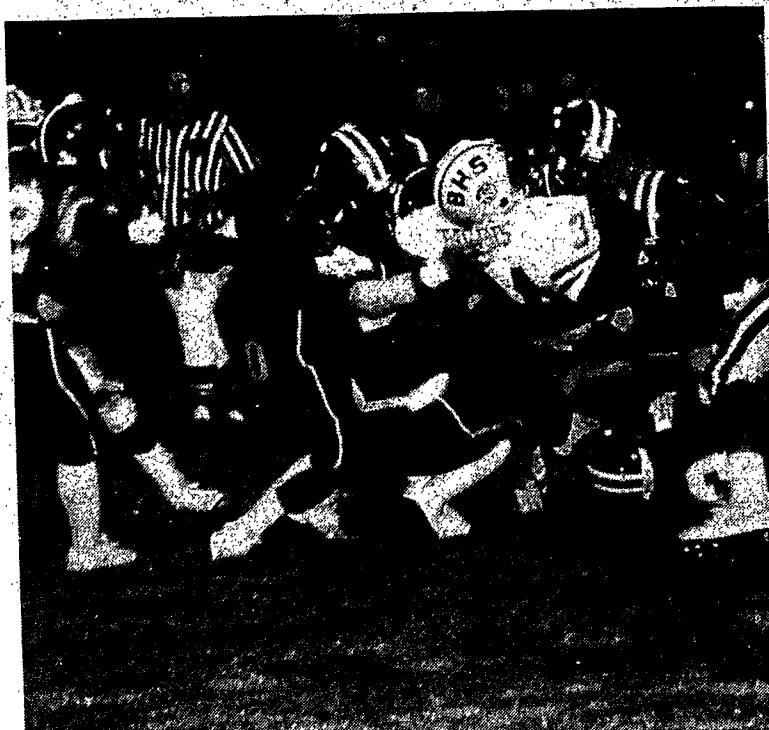

Probable starters on offense for the homecoming game include Travis Haynes, center; Jerry Island and Doral Nichols, guards; Lance Bell and Heath Hopgood, tackles;

Darrin Washington, tight end; Rickey Whavers, split end; Doug Rhodes, wingback; Aaron Whavers, running back; Brian Laneaux, fullback; and Chad LaFontaine, quarterback.

Players expected to start Friday on the Tiger defense include Amadae Collins and Island, defensive tackles; Laneaux and Bell, defensive ends; Destin Brady and Rhodes, cornerbacks; Aaron Whavers, Monty Strong, Andrew Collins and Ed Elliot, linebackers; and Rickey Whavers, free safety.

The game begins at 7:30 p.m., after pregame homecoming activities.

Shabazz shines among outstanding players

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

St. Stanislaus quarterback YaSin Shabazz threw two touchdown passes and ran for a third in the Rockchaws' 23-14 win over the Long Beach Bearcats Friday night.

Shabazz went 500 passing, hitting nine of 18 attempts for a total of 204 yards.

That outstanding effort earned him the 'Player-of-The Week' honors at SSC, according to Rick's Trophies of Waveland and Loiacano's Health Club in Bay St. Louis, sponsors of the program.

An exceptional effort on both offense and defense on the part of Bay High lineman Jerry Island is cited as being responsible for his selection as the outstanding Tiger player this week.

Island is credited with four unassisted tackles, seven assists and a fumble recovery in Bay High's 34-6 sweep over Vancleave.

This week's trophy winner at Hancock North Central is junior linebacker and tight end Cory Blaize who gathered in a 52-yard touchdown pass on offense against Pass Christian.

On defense he is credited with three individual tackles and eight assists, including twice throwing the Pirate ball carrier for a nine-yard total loss.

Pirate back Eric Dawkins carried 15 times in that game for a total of 81 yards against the Hawks.

In addition, he is credited with eight tackles on defense to take the honors this week at Pass High. Also on the east side of the Bay, Michael Kergosien, junior tackle for the Coast Episcopal High Raiders, is cited by the sponsors with "some great blocking" offensively as well as 11 unassisted tackles on defense in naming him the Raiders' 'Player of The Week.'

Plaquemine Cowboys edge Raiders

The Coast Episcopal High School Raiders took on an always tough Plaquemine Christian Academy Cowboy team from New Orleans in a rare Thursday afternoon contest.

The Raiders played their best game of the season so far and finally succumbed to the Cowboys 14-6.

The Raiders scored first in the first quarter on a 23 yard run by quarterback Chris Riggs.

The score came on a broken play that Riggs turned upfield and scored on. The point after attempt was blocked.

With 1:23 minutes left in the half, the Cowboys capitalized on a bad snap on a punt attempt and recovered on the Raider 8 yardline. The Cowboys scored with 33 seconds left on the clock and ran the extra point in to hold an 8-6 edge at the half.

The second half was a defensive struggle where key penalties and two fumbles finally decided the outcome. Two 15 yard penalties, a 10 yard penalty, and a fumble at key points in the game spelled the difference, stopping Raider drives.

They finally scored on a 15 flair pass to their tailback. The point after touchdown was no good, giving the Cowboys a 14-6 advantage.

The play of Chris Riggs at quarterback, gaining 37 yards and Rea Montjoy with 40 yards on the ground and 60 yards in returns, provided most of the Raider punch. Jason Evans added 18 yards up the middle on quick hitters.

On defense, Mike Kergosien was a standout at tackle, contributing 11 tackles. Scott Covode at defensive end turned in a superior performance with 8 tackles, holding down Cowboy sweeps and pressuring the quarterback. Jason Evans at cornerback and Billy Guice at safety each had 7 tackles.

The next Raider game will be against Ben Ford Christian Academy in Bogalusa, Louisiana at 7 p.m. on Friday, October 2nd.

NUMBERS GROW

HATTIESBURG—Senior punter Bill Knighten (Montgomery, Ala.) continues to make inroads on USM's punting records. He kicked nine times for 372 yards against Texas A&M Saturday and now shows 210 punts for 8,638 yards.

The 210 punts if good for third place on USM's all time list behind Mike Wright and Bruce Thompson.

The yardage total is good for fourth place on the all time Golden Eagle list. He trails only Wright (9,741), Thompson (9,517) and Ray Guy (8,934).

His 41.1 career average is good for a second place tie with Wright. Guy tops that category at 44.7.

Knighten needs to average only 170 yards per game in USM's remaining eight games to become the first Golden Eagle ever to punt for over 10,000 yards.

SPREADING THE OFFENSE

HATTIESBURG—USM's offense has been a varied one thus far this season. The latest stats show no fewer than 10 receivers and rushers involved.

Darryl Tillman of Wiggins leads all receivers with six catches for 136 yards and one touchdown. His longest is a 52-yard scoring strike against Texas A&M. Next on the list is Chris McGee with four catches for 53 yards and one TD.

Junior Shelton Gandy of Waynesboro, leads the rushers with 300 yards on 71 carries, a 4.2 per carry average.

Wildcats ranging to Senatobia looking for a win

TENNIS PRO— Anne Johnson Culppepper, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Johnson of Bay St. Louis, recently has been certified as an active member of the United States Professional Association, the largest and oldest association of tennis teaching professionals. Certification came after an intensive testing procedure, which included a four-hour written exam, successfully giving a private and a group lesson, and demonstrating stroke execution and diagnosis. While under the coaching of Lambert Boyd at Christ Episcopal High School, she was the District 8 singles champion. She played her college tennis at Millsaps. Culppepper resides in Jackson and is teaching pro at the Reservoir Tennis and Swim Club in that city.

POPLARVILLE—There's no rest for the bruised, weary or saddened. Pearl River must hit the road Thursday to take on the Northwest Rangers at Senatobia.

After losing to the Hinds Eagles 28-22 in Poplarville Saturday the Wildcats find themselves with a 2-2 overall mark and a depressing 0-2 ledger in the South Division.

"That Hinds game was a hard one to lose," said Mike Nelson, the Wildcats head coach. "It's a bitter pill to swallow."

Hinds pushed its record to 3-1 overall and 1-1 in division play and took a giant step in the very competitive race.

The Wildcats committed five turnovers (four fumbles and one interception) in the first half to help aid the Hinds' cause.

"I was pleased with our offensive attack most of the night," Nelson said. "We looked like a million dollars at times and then we would self-destruct."

The PRC defense took care of the passing attack of the Eagles, but the ground game was a different story. The 'Cat defense gave up 345 yards on the ground.

"Our defensive front did not play well at all," Nelson said. "I was really disappointed in how the Eagle offensive line handled us."

The Wildcats will hit the road this Thursday to take on the Northwest Rangers at Senatobia. It's a short practice week and a very long trip.

"We just don't have time to reflect on our Hinds loss," Nelson said. "It is going to be difficult enough getting ready for this week's game."

The Rangers are 2-2 here in '87. This past week East Mississippi defeated them 23-20. Earlier in the year East Central won 17-16 while the Rangers defeated Co-Lin 15-14 and Holmes 21-9.

Nelson said the Rangers will probably throw the ball against the Wildcats, even though they have the best running back in the state.

"Their defense is huge up front," Nelson said, "and they play the run well."

"We will take each game one at a time," said Nelson. "All we can do is play the very best we can and wait for the dust to settle."

The Wildcat game is set for 7 p.m.

tonight on the Northwest Junior college campus in Senatobia.

BURTON SCORES
In the Eagles contest, Kevin Woodson rushed 29 times for 199 yards and two touchdowns for the visitors.

The Wildcats were prepared for the passing attack of Eagle quarterback Mike Burch; however, it was the grinding of Woodson and Chris Kaywood which rolled up 319 of their 345 yards on the ground.

Pearl River scored first as quarterback Scott Nease hit tight-end Chris Hoz for 44 yards on a third down and long yardage. The point after was no good and the 'Cats led 6-0 with 12:01 remaining in the first quarter.

Later in the first quarter, Hinds tied the game when Woodson ramblend in from the six-yard line. The score was set up when PRC fumbled at their own 31. The PAT was blocked.

With 1:15 left in the first quarter, Joey Tatum kicked a 24-yard field goal to give the Wildcats the lead (9-6) for the last time during the night.

Hinds scored 10 points in the second quarter to take a 16-9 intermission lead. Woodson scored from the five and Jason Smith kicked a 20-yard field goal. Another fumble set up the Eagles at the PRC 25.

In the third period, Kaywood scored from the two-yard line while Smith added the PAT. The opening drive of the third quarter put the Eagles in front 23-9.

PRC got on the board with a fantastic 60-yard run by Charles Burton, a freshman out of Hancock North Central.

Tatum added the PAT and PRC was behind by a 23-16 count.

Hinds responded with a 79-yard drive in 12 plays which netted a 19-yard field goal by Smith. PRC immediately put together a 51-yard drive in seven plays with Jerry Rush scoring from the one. PRC's try for the two point conversion failed, leaving the score 26-22.

PRC had an excellent opportunity to take the lead as Larry Copeland intercepted a Burch pass at the Eagle 20. Two plays later the Wildcats had a first and goal from the 10. But three plays later quarterback Nease was hit from the blind-side and he fumbled at the 16, where the Eagles took over, with five minutes remaining PRC's defense held again and took over and marched to the Eagles' 25 yard line before giving the ball up on downs.

Bowhunting season opens Saturday

JACKSON—Mississippi archery hunters will be in the woods this Saturday morning, Oct. 3, expecting to bag Mississippi's favorite big game animal—the white-tailed deer.

Always the first hunting period on deer, this first archery season will extend through Nov. 20. Longbows, recurves or compound bows are permitted during the archery season.

Latest figures from the Department of Wildlife Conservation in Jackson suggest that as many as 45,000 hunters may take advantage of this hunting season. Bowhunters bagged almost 20,000 deer last year, according to agency figures.

The bag limit on deer during this archery period is one antlered buck per day, but no more than five during the entire deer season. During the archery season, the bag limit on antlerless deer is one per day, but no more than three per license year.

This means, according to law enforcement officials, that if a bowhunter took his five bucks and three antlerless deer all during the archery season, he would have filled his bag limit on deer for the remainder of the deer season that year. He would be unable to harvest deer during any of the other gun or primitive weapon seasons.

Also hunters should know that any person operating a deer camp during a deer season must obtain a camp permit from the Department of Wildlife Conservation before beginning camp operations. Permit applications may be obtained by writing the Department of P.O. Box 451, Jackson, MS 39205-0451, or call 601/961-5300. Permits are free.

Hunting hours during the archery season are one-half hour before sunrise until one-half hour after sunset. No dogs or sidearms allowed while hunting deer during the archery period.

Mississippi resident bowhunters must have a sportsman's license, or an all game hunting and fishing license and the archery/primitive weapon permit, before going hunting.

Millsaps eyeing rebirth in Texas

Millsaps College Majors (2-1) Saturday will visit Trinity Tigers (0-2) at E.M. Stevens Stadium, San Antonio, Texas. Kickoff is 1:30 p.m.

The teams have met nine times with Millsaps winning seven of the games, including last year's 16-0 win.

Last week the Majors were defeated by the University of South Tigers by a score of 17-13. Millsaps turned the ball over five times and could muster only 270 yards of total offense.

Millsaps quarterback Rusty Davis completed 12 of 24 attempts for 151 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions. The touchdown came in the third quarter on a 60-yard pass to freshman tight end Steve Levee.

The Majors' ground attack accumulated 119 yards on 29 carries and was led by fullback Jerry Leonard and tailback Buddy Bass. Leonard, a junior, had six carries for 43 yards while Bass, a freshman, had nine carries for 40 yards and a second quarter touchdown.

Millsaps' defense was led once again by senior linebacker Clay Ranager (9 tackles, 5 assists) and defensive tackle Scott Green (7 tackles, 5 assists, 1 sack).

Strong safety Aubrey Falls (6 tackles, 3 assists) had a blocked punt which led to a Millsaps touchdown. Defensive end Jason Walenta (4 tackles, 3 assists) recovered a Sewanee fumble.

Others to watch include Todd Thrifflay, TB, 26.5 KOR average; Aubrey Falls, SS, 16 tackles, 7 assists, 1 interception; Tommy Ponder, LB, 19 tackles, 9 assists, 2 sacks; and Darrin Estes, SE-P, 11 catches, 138 yards, 4 TDs.

Rhodes College is the only common opponent. Rhodes defeated Trinity Sept. 19 by a score of 32-0. Millsaps travels to Rhodes Oct. 3.

Trinity University is a NCAA Division III independent school located in San Antonio, Texas. The Tigers return 18 lettermen from last year's 0-8 team. They opened the season with a 26-13 loss to archrival NAIA Division II Austin College before bowing to Rhodes last week.

Trinity players to watch include Lynn Westfall, LB 50 tackles in '86; Spencer Street, CB, 45 tackles in '86, 18.2 KOR average; Greg Knott, TE, 9 catches, 131 yards, 1 touchdown in '86; and Raul Quintero, FS, 33 tackles in '86.

Big plays beat Eagles

HATTIESBURG, Miss.—Texas A&M's Top 20 Aggies used three long scoring plays to post a 27-14 decision over the University of Southern Mississippi Saturday in Jackson's Memorial Stadium.

The loss dropped the Golden Eagles to 1-2 on the year, while the Aggies improved to 2-1. Coach Jim Carmody's club now will prepare for an Oct. 3 game at Louisville, the longest road trip of the year for the Eagles.

The Aggies used a 69-yard Lance Pavlas to Matt Gurley scoring pass to forge a 7-7 halftime deadlock and then got a 77-yard run from Darren Lewis and an 82-yarder from freshman quarterback Bucky Richardson to post their second win in as many years over the Eagles and extend their career edge over USM to 3-0.

Using freshman quarterback Brett Favre all the way, the Golden Eagles more than held their own in the first half and it was Favre's second quarter 52-yard scoring strike to Darryl Tillman that left the score at 7-all at halftime. Favre also added a five-yarder to Robbie Weeks in the fourth period, and netted 143 yards on six completions on the day.

Tailback Shelton Gandy had another strong rushing day with 99 yards on 23 carries. That total accounted for most of USM's rushing (106 net yards) for the game. Favre spread his completions around with five different receivers catching at least one pass. Tillman had two catches for 77 total yards to lead the Eagles.

Senior Billy Knighten had another big day punting the football with nine kicks for 372 yards, a 41.3 average. He continues to move up both career kicks and career yardage lists at USM.

The game marked the second straight year that the Eagles have played the Aggies tough and come away empty. Last year, A&M took a 16-7 decision from USM at College Station, Tex.

TAYLOR BROADCAST

ESPN will rebroadcast a feature story on St. Stanislaus football player Jeff Taylor Saturday on its Scholastic Sports Network America.

The broadcast is scheduled for 10 a.m., ESPN spokesman Rob Tobias said.

The story deals with Taylor's fight against cancer and his first football game after returning to the team following treatments for the disease.

FISH STOCKERS

JACKSON—For those at the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation stocking fish in public waters, last fiscal year was a busy one.

The state wildlife department raised and stocked over 1.4 million Florida bass, striped bass and channel catfish. In addition the agency raised and stocked some 1.8 million other fish for the state's rivers, streams and lakes.

The fish came from state operated hatcheries at Iyann, Turcotte Lab on Ross Barnett Reservoir and Oxford.

In addition the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service provided well over a million largemouth bass, striped bass, bluegill and channel catfish.

CLASSIFIEDS ARE FOR EVERYONE!

Have you taken a good look at our Classified pages lately? You'll be surprised at just how many ads we publish.

When it comes to Classifieds, "the more the merrier" is true! More potential buyers... more sellers! More people advertising things "for sale"... and somehow, we get more people looking! That's the way it works! It takes both buyers and sellers... and we've got them by the thousands! Buying or selling, the first place to look is in our Classifieds! To place an ad, call

Public Notice

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
WHEREAS, on the 1st day of December, 1986, Catherine Y. Lindsey and Norfleet Robinson executed a Deed of Trust to Gerald C. Gex, Trustee, to secure an indebtedness therein described to Frances L. Stewart, as Beneficiary, which said Deed of Trust is duly recorded in Deed of Trust Book 300, Page 562 of the Records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on Land in the Office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi; and WHEREAS, default having been made in the payment of said indebtedness and the legal holder of said note, Frances L. Stewart, having requested the Trustee to foreclose on the hereinafter described property with the improvements thereon, for the purpose of paying said indebtedness and costs.

NOW, THEREFORE, I will on the 23rd day of October, 1987, within the hours of 11:00 o'clock A.M. and 4:00 o'clock P.M., being the legal hours for said sale, offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder for cash, at the front door of the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, the following described property situated in Hancock County, Mississippi, to wit:

Lots 17, 18, 19, Block 1, TIPPINS SUBDIVISION, Third Ward, Town of Waveland, Hancock County, Mississippi, as per the official plat thereof on file in the office of the Clerk of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi.

Title to the above described property is believed to be good, but I will convey only such title as is vested in me as Trustee.

WITNESS MY SIGNATURE, this 28th day of September, 1987.

GERALD C. GEX, TRUSTEE

St. Stanislaus initiates "Big Brother-Little Brother" program

St. Stanislaus High School sponsored a "Big Brother-Little Brother" program on Wednesday, Sept. 23 in the school chapel.

Purpose of the program is to have a senior as a big brother assigned to each sixth and seventh grade student to help him in his first year at St. Stanislaus.

Brother Albert Guarino, the campus minister, opened the program with a prayer and a blessing of the candles that would be used by the sixth and seventh graders and the seniors.

Brother Paul Montero, principal, welcomed the students and their parents and friends.

Senior Yasin Shabazz, Student Council president, spoke on behalf of the seniors; and Jean Paul Stafford, a seventh grade student, spoke on behalf of the little brothers.

Each senior accompanied his little brother in lighting a candle to symbolize a closer relationship during the present school session.

Senior Shane Sigsworth gave the closing prayer. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the school for the students and their relatives and friends.

The following sixth and seventh grade students were honored with their senior big brother's name in parenthesis: Chad Ambrose (An-

USM names Alumni Hall of Fame members

HATTIESBURG—Attorney Gen. Ed Pittman, former Lt. Gov. Evelyn Gandy, NBC news anchor Chuck Scarborough and University of Southern Mississippi President Aubrey K. Lucas are among 75 persons named as charter members of the USM Alumni Association Hall of Fame.

The list of distinguished alumni also includes Alcorn State university President Walter Washington, novelist Gloria Norris, the late Hattiesburg newspaper editor Leonard Lowrey, PGA President James Ray Carpenter, former longtime USM athletic director Reed Green, 96-year-old original class member Fleet C. Burkett, former state College Board members Bobby Chain and M.M. Roberts (deceased) and retiring Alumni Association Director Powell G. Ogletree.

Charter members, families and friends will be honored Oct. 9 during a 7 p.m. banquet at the J.B. George Commons on the USM campus. The banquet will be one of many events taking place during the university's 75th Anniversary Celebration and Homecoming Oct. 9-10.

Alumni Association members voted in 1984 to establish the Hall of Fame, inducting 75 charter members this year to coincide with the conclusion of the university's 75th anniversary celebration. A committee of seven past alumni presidents made the selections, which will be limited to seven new members each year.

Only alumni whose class had graduated at least 15 years earlier were considered for inclusion as charter members. Activities and service to the university, community and professional contributions also weighed heavily in the selections.

The complete list of USM Alumni Association Hall of Fame charter members, and their graduating class, includes:

Minor to be honored at MSU

Sea Coast Echo political journalist Wilson F. "Bill" Minor will be honored as part of Mississippi State University's Homecoming activities Saturday.

Minor, who has donated his journalistic papers to MSU, will share the stage with the Stennis Scholars, Graduate Assistants and Scottish Rite Fellows at a 10 a.m. reception in the Stennis Suite of Mitchell Memorial Library.

Sen. John C. Stennis, an MSU alumnus, honors the winners of an essay contest each year at Homecoming.

Minor, a Louisiana native, was the New Orleans Times-Picayune's capital correspondent from Jackson from 1947 to 1976. He also served as editor and reporter of the Capital Reporter, 1976-1981, a weekly newspaper specializing in investigative journalism. Its motto was "Once a Week, But Never Weakly."

He now writes a syndicated column and lives in Jackson. Other Homecoming 1987 highlights include the annual Homecoming Parade Oct. 2 at 6 p.m. from Simrall Engineering to Five Points, followed by a pep rally at 6:30 p.m.

Fireworks and a free outdoor concert by Joan Jeff begins at 7:30 p.m., also at Five Points.

On Oct. 3, the Homecoming Golf Tournament gets under way at 8:30 a.m. at the University Golf Course and the Bulldog 10,000-Meter Run and Two-Mile Fun Run begin at 9:30 a.m. at the College of Veterinary Medicine.

The Maroon and White baseball game is set for 1 p.m. at Dudy Noble Field and the Homecoming Fish Fry will be held on the Drill Field, 2-5 p.m., under the big top tent. Tickets for the fish and all the trimmings are $6.50 in advance and $7 on Homecoming day. They may be purchased from the Alumni Association.

The evening climaxes with the Homecoming football game at 6 p.m. between Mississippi State and Memphis State University at Scott Field. Crowning of the homecoming queen will be held before the game.

New research center established at Ole Miss

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Senator John Stennis has announced that a Senate Appropriations subcommittee has approved $600,000 to establish a Marine Minerals Technology Center at the University of Mississippi.

Stennis said the Mississippi Mineral Resources Institute at the University of Mississippi will team with the University of Hawaii to form the new center to develop economically and environmentally sound methods of mining minerals from the ocean floor. The subcommittee also approved $600,000 for the University of Hawaii which will concentrate on research in deep sea regions while the Mississippi research will center on the shallow regions of the continental shelf.

"This is a splendid opportunity for the University of Mississippi to expand research in this area which is attracting increasing attention," Stennis said. Activities related to the research will be based at the new Mississippi Technology Transfer Center located at the National Space Technology Laboratory (NSTL) near Bay St. Louis, he said.

"We all know that the ocean floor is rich with resources that will be increasingly important in coming years," he said. "It is important that we move now to discover and develop new technologies and methodologies in the field of ocean mining that will make ocean mining more feasible."

"It pleases me that this important research will be conducted on our own Gulf Coast by the University of Mississippi, which has already demonstrated a tremendous capability in this area," Stennis said.

The funds for establishment of the center were approved by the Interior Appropriations Subcommittee as part of the 1988 Interior Appropriations Bill which will now be before the full Appropriations Committee before going to the Senate floor for final approval.

NEXT WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Opportunities to use your ingenuity are everywhere.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) By being kind and considerate with those you care about, you can achieve great success.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Talk your cherished ambitions over with a close pal, and get the feedback you desire. Finish the projects you've started.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Implement your practical side when dealing with those in the business world. Shelve your social life for now, and really dive into your workload.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 20) A cooperative partner can give you the assistance no one else has been able to. Double-check your schedule and make sure you have time for your friends.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) When out and about on the social front, make sure you listen when indulged in conversation.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you've been having problems trusting people lately, you are justified; it's sometimes best to keep your secrets.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Spread your love for humankind around today and get nice responses. Be a happier person as a result of your optimism.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Showing real affection for those you love can bring you much happiness. It's a good day for sociability.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Why not give a party instead of just attending one? Those around you are in a jolly frame of mind now. Take advantage of this and make them happy.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Get everything around you nicely organized, then make those changes where a personal relationship is concerned.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) You have neglected your good friends as of late, so correct this immediately. Get your creative juices flowing.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) It's time to bring everything together regarding that important project you've been working so hard on. People will cooperate easily now.

Rehabilitated ospreys fly to freedom in Cedar Point

Osprey eyes a fish that has been tossed into his cage in an effort to entice the bird out of the door. The two birds took more than a half-hour to leave their protected environment and return to the wild, and continued to visit the Stribling home to obtain fish each day for more than a week before beginning to fish on their own, Leticia Stribling said. The flight cage, about the size of a walk-in closet, was designed to provide the birds with enough room to move around, including the room to extend and flap their wings, which can span as much as four feet. Sheets were placed in some parts of the cage to protect the birds from the sun. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

PREPARATIONS—Joe Stribling, left, lays out a snack of fish to tempt two ospreys while his wife, Leticia Stribling, removes some of the wiring holding the door of a flight cage shut. The Striblings, both members of Wildlife Rehabilitation and Nature Preservation Society (WRANPS), have rehabilitated wild birds before and currently are keeping several birds which could not be returned to the wild due to injuries or for other reasons. The two birds, one of their most recent projects, appear to be a male and a female that the Striblings hope will help to repopulate the species in the Bay St. Louis area. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

FREED—A recently released osprey, commonly called a fish eagle, sits near a tree before attempting to fly. The bird was one of two found while still not mature enough to fly and had to be cared for by humans until it was old enough to be released. Joe and Leticia Stribling, two local members of Wildlife Rehabilitation and Nature Preservation Society, a non-profit organization which operates a wildlife rehabilitation center in Harrison County, said they consider the release of the ospreys to be one of their most successful projects because the birds usually die in captivity. (WRANPS photo by Joe Stribling)

IN FLIGHT—A freed osprey tries his wings after spending 17 days in a large cage at the home of Joe Stribling and Leticia Stribling of Cedar Point. The Striblings rehabilitated two ospreys, one found as a nestling and the other as a fledgling, after moving the birds from the WRANPS Wildlife Rehabilitation Center in Harrison County. Anyone who finds an injured or orphaned wild bird or animal or who needs information on caring for one may contact the center at 452-WILD. (WRANPS photo by Joe Stribling)

Mathcounts begins fifth year

At precisely what time between one and two o'clock is the minute hand exactly over the hour hand? This is a real mindbender! But junior high students from all over Mississippi will be studying problems like this in preparation for the upcoming Mathcounts program.

More than 100 schools are expected to enter and try to dethrone defending state champion, Clinton. The top students winning the competition will get a free trip to Washington, D.C. to compete against students from all of the other 49 states for the national championship.

Junior high mathematics teachers have received information about entering the program. These teachers will serve as "coaches" for the "mathletes" from their school. School competitions are held in December or January, regional competitions in February, the state competition in April and the national finals in May.

All junior high schools in the area are eligible and are invited to participate.

Mathcounts is administered in the state by the Mississippi Engineering Society. Sponsors of the program, in addition to the society, include the Gannett Foundation, the Mississippi Power Foundation, Inc., Bryan Foods, Chevron U.S.A. Inc., First Mississippi Corporation, Mississippi Chemical Corporation, Deposit Guaranty National Bank, Electric Power Association of Mississippi, APAC-Mississippi, Inc., Layne Central Company, Mississippi Concrete Industries Association, Mississippi Valley Gas Company, Southland Oil Company, Hancock Bank, B & B Concrete Co., Inc., Faulkner Concrete Pipe Company, and Rutledge and Associates, Inc.

If you are a junior high student or the parent of a junior high student interested in competing in Mathcounts, contact your junior high math teacher. Further information may be obtained from the Mississippi Mathcounts Coordinator, Dr. Samuel L. LeLeeuw, P.E., Department of Civil Engineering, The University of Mississippi, University, MS 39677 (phone 232-5368 or 234-6854).

OLA Big Sister/Little Sister tradition continues

The 1988 Senior Class of Our Lady Academy initiated the Freshman Class of 1981 into the high school. The traditional week long Big Sister/Little Sister program began by each senior drawing a number to select her little sister.

The activities started with the Annelique Bell lit the Friendship Candle placed on the altar. Then the Little Sisters individually were called to the altar where their candles were lit by their Big Sister.

After the closing song, "You've Got a Friend", Big Sisters/Little Sisters recessed via the center isle seniors bringing lunches for the freshmen. Then each senior dressed her selected ninth grader up as a baby and paraded her around the campus to introduce her officially to the rest of the school.

The week ended with a Big Sister/Little Sister Liturgy at Our Lady of the Gulf Church. The Big Sisters wearing red corsages with the Little Sisters wearing white corsages processed into the church. Father Greg Barras celebrated the mass with the help during the service of Jan Scardino, Annette Firmatue, Jessica Defes, Cynthia Martinolich, Jennifer Pickle, Jennifer Dagnall, Shannon Necaise, and Heather Pereira.

Annelique Bell, Senior Class president, gave the Senior Address. She talked on friendship and love. She stated that the Senior Class of 1988 is passing down "Strength—the strength to fight for what you believe."

She concluded with the statement that "Our Lady Academy is a Faith Community, and, in a community, we work together. Together we can accomplish our goals—Faith, Love, Friendship, Sportsmanship, and Academic Success." Catherine Ohman, Freshman Class president, responded for the Little Sisters.

Homecoming activities will begin at 7:15 p.m. at Tiger Stadium preceding the game, Bay High vs. East Central.

OLA SENIORS AND FRESHMEN pause on the steps of Our Lady of the Gulf Church after the Big Sister/Little Sister Mass.

OLA FRESHMAN CLASS, dressed up as babies by their senior Big Sisters, line up to entertain the student body.

JENNIFER DEMPSEY, OLA senior, daughter of Mrs. Gloria Dempsey of Long Beach, leaves Our Lady of the Gulf Church with Kimberly Berglund, her freshman Little Sister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Berglund of Gulfport.

Bogalusa schedules "Festival in The Park"

"We are very excited about the positive response we are getting from people" said George Johnson, president of the Bogalusa Chamber of Commerce, in commenting on Bogalusa's upcoming "Festival in The Park."

The festival, which will be Oct. 3 and 4 on the grounds of Cassidy Park in Bogalusa, will feature arts, crafts and working craftspeople, commercial exhibits and a mini health fair as well as a variety of food, music and children's activities.

The festival will kick off Saturday, Oct. 3 with a "Festival in The Park" 5K run beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Following the run will be a parade through Bogalusa, which will end on the festival grounds in time for a 10 a.m. opening. The festival will open at noon on Sunday.

"Come join us. There will be something for kids from 1 to 101," said Johnson. "This is a true family event and the best part is that it doesn't cost a dime to get in."

For more information about the 5k run, the festival, or how to be an exhibitor, call the Bogalusa Chamber of Commerce at (504) 735-5731, or

Foundation to fund state teacher projects

The Mississippi Power Foundation, Inc., reports the Foundation will set aside $50,000 to be used in assisting Mississippi classroom teachers.

William C. Browning, chairman of the foundation, said the organization will continue to fund other educational projects, but the organization's board of trustees voted to set aside these special funds to underwrite individual teacher projects.

"In developing a program for enhancing education, we feel we should not lose sight of the impact individual classroom teachers have. We want to provide funding to assist those classroom teachers in doing the best job possible," Browning said.

The foundation's board has set the assistance and support of classroom teachers as a priority for the 1987-88 school year, he added.

In order to receive consideration for funding, specific proposals should be submitted to the foundation. Complete information, including applications, can be obtained by writing the Mississippi Power Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 4079, Gulfport, Miss., 39401.

The foundation recently has funded projects relating to math, science, writing proficiency, history and Mississippi writers.

4-H News

By Daney Jackson
Extension 4-H Youth Agent

ANEW START

I believe in the philosophy that how you feel about yourself to a great extent determines how successful you are. I know from experience a 4-H member's attitude when entering a contest has a lot to do with winning and losing.

The beginning of a new school year can be an exciting or a depressing time depending on your confidence level. However you feel now, you can become more self-confident. You are in control of your thinking.

Try some of these tips for building confidence.

Focus on the things you do well and enjoy doing. Could you improve your skills in these areas by a little extra work and practice? If so, take the time.

Focus on what's good and special about you and you'll begin to like yourself a lot more.

Look for new ways to take responsibility. Volunteer for jobs and special assignments in school. Make the extra effort to be in control of what happens to you.

Believe in yourself and your abilities. Remember that your attitude about what you can do is one of the keys to self-confidence.

Help others build their self-confidence. Do this by appreciating them, listening to them, including them in your group and never taking part in handing out put-downs.

Spend time with people who build up your confidence. The attitudes and behaviors of people you spend time with often rub off on you.

4-H volunteers can be proud of their affiliation with the largest voluntary youth program in the world.

4-H volunteers are a part of the very rapidly growing field of volunteerism and a movement back to "people helping people" in our country.

4-H volunteers have the opportunity to travel in the state and country and even abroad, to conferences, exchange trips and other such exciting event.

4-H volunteers experience great satisfaction and gratification in seeing other volunteers and youth look to them as the model of something good and worthwhile.

If you are interested in winning these rewards, contact your county Extension office.

REWARDS OF BEING A 4-H VOLUNTEER

It is club reorganization time and 4-H volunteers are vital to the 4-H Club program. 4-H volunteers not only help youth grow to their potential, they also find themselves reaching new goals.

The rewards of being a 4-H volunteer come in many different ways and forms.

The possibilities for personal growth and development are great. A 4-H volunteer develops knowledge and skills in the areas of organizational planning, personal and group management, child and youth development and adult and continuing education.

4-H volunteers develop attitudes of community services and helpfulness to others and gain the respect and recognition of their communities.

4-H volunteers can observe and be proud of the development of 4-H members they have assisted.

4-H volunteers have the satisfaction of knowing they have given help to others and their own families.

4-H volunteers have the privilege of meeting new people and working with outstanding 4-H members and adults.

4-H volunteers gain personal satisfaction as well as meet some of their own psychological needs.

4-H volunteers are also entitled to certain tax deductions for out-of-pocket expenses.

Pins and certificates for certain lengths of service as a 4-H volunteer are awarded during recognition ceremonies.

Spend time reading and listening to things which are positive and uplifting.

Never put yourself down. Negative self-talk is a confidence killer.

Take advantage of this new school year to make a new start toward becoming the capable, self-confident person you have the potential to be.

Student leader survey divorces success from financial reward

RESTON, Va.—Looking into the future, America's student leaders indicated they hope to have successful careers and a successful first marriage by the time they are 40 years old. The least important goal of their future was making "a lot of money."

More than 1,300 student leaders indicated that success was more important than financial rewards during a survey administered at the 51st annual National Association of Student Councils (NASC) Conference.

The students also reported that AIDS prevention, the economy, and the environment were priorities for America.

In the survey students were asked what would be most important to them by the time they were 40; career success, a successful first marriage, making a contribution to society, earning a lot of money, or being a better parent than the generation which raised them.

One thousand nine of the young leaders reported that "success in my career" was either important or very important. Eight hundred one selected a successful first marriage; 790 chose making a contribution to society; 623 picked being a better parent and 415 selected making money.

These students, who came from every state in the country, also believed that AIDS prevention education should be available in schools. Eight hundred eighty-four called for such courses, while 52 felt they are not necessary.

They were also asked which was the most important issue facing America's current leaders. Five hundred nine reported the economy is the biggest problem with which America's leaders must wrestle; 277 selected national defense; 204 the environment; 198 AIDS prevention; and 96 chose terrorism.

The student leaders also reported: It would be appropriate for the United States to elect a female president within the next five years (742 yes; 262 no).

It would be appropriate to elect a minority president within the next five years (614 yes; 268 no).

The press was not right in investigating Gary Hart. Four hundred seventeen indicated the press was right; 648 said no.

Ethical behavior is less important to America's leaders now than it was 10 years ago. (495 yes; 290 no).

They are concerned that mankind will ruin the Earth's environment. (963 yes; 168 no).

Surrogate motherhood is a proper way for a couple to have a child if they are unable to conceive. (638 yes; 432 no).

There is too much promiscuity in America. (615 yes; 257 no).

National network news is their most believable source of news.

They also were asked their views on presidential candidates. If it were up to America's young leaders, George Bush and Michael Dukakis would square off in the next presidential campaign, but they also wish Lee Iacocca would throw his hat into the ring.

Asked to vote among the recognized Republican candidates, the student leaders clearly supported Vice President Bush. He garnered 185 of the 428 votes cast. Robert Dole finished second with 114 votes followed by Jack Kemp, 48.

Essays to discuss Smoking

"Smoking or Health" is the subject of the 11th annual essay contest sponsored by the Mississippi Lung Association, announced Mrs. Johnnie Tolleson of Kosciusko, president of the Christmas Seal voluntary health organization.

Announcements outlining rules and regulations have been sent to all Mississippi schools. Any regularly enrolled 8th or 10th grade student is eligible to participate. Teachers are asked to select local preliminary winning essays and submit them to the Mississippi Lung Association for state judging on or before Monday, Nov. 16, 1987.

All entries will be judged as to content, accuracy of statement, originality and effectiveness. Winners will be announced in early December.

Monetary prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place winners. Additionally, the top winners will appear on "Access", Mississippi Educational Television program with Jack Schweitzer, in January, 1988 during National Education Week on Smoking or Health.

The Mississippi Lung Association will furnish resource material, free of charge, upon request.

For further information contact the Mississippi Lung Association, Post Office Box 9856, Jackson, MS 39206 or telephone 362-5453.

FINAL NOTICE

to homeowners in Jourdan River Isles, Jourdan River Estates, and in the area of Garden Island and Shoreline Park scheduled to receive sewerage.

SUBJECT: Installation and maintenance of grinder pump units.

The following policy change has been approved by the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District and the Bureau of Pollution Control.

The homeowner has two options:

Option 1—Grinder pumps and control panel may be located on the homeowner's property at his designated location if the necessary easement documents and clear title certifications are received in the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management office not later than October 15, 1987.

Option 2—If notification is not received from homeowners by October 15, 1987, the installation of the grinder pump and control panel will be installed in the public street right-of-way at a location designated by the design engineer.

Exception: Houses fronting on Highway 603 where installation must be on the homeowner's property.

To choose the type of installation wanted homeowners should do the following:

Those who prefer a street installation and

1. Have already signed an easement. You must by October 15, notify the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District in writing, Post Office Box 265, Waveland, MS 39576, that you prefer to have a street installation.
2. Have not already signed the documents. Do nothing and the installation will be placed in the street right-of-way automatically.

Those who prefer the installation to be on their property and

1. Have already signed and submitted the easement papers. Contact the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District to confirm the private property installation.
2. Have not signed an easement. Furnish to the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District the properly executed documents plus evidence of clear title to the property by October 15. Failure to do so will result in a street installation.

Advantages and disadvantages associated with each type of installation:

Street Installation

Advantages:

1. Owner unrestricted in use of property
 2. Contractor will not work on property. Any digging on private property is owner's responsibility
 3. All maintenance performed outside of property boundaries
- ##### Disadvantages:
1. Higher tie in cost to property owner
 2. Possible problems in achieving slope of gravity flow line from house to unit
 3. Unit and pole subject to damage from vehicles, machinery, etc., which may increase maintenance costs
 4. Service pole highly visible and unattractive-control panel will be mounted minimum of five feet above ground level
 5. Cost of poles may increase construction cost to individual homeowner
 6. Highly susceptible to vandalism

Private Property Installation

Advantages:

1. Minimum tie in cost to homeowners
 2. Unit can be better protected from damage
 3. May be located at homeowners designated spot
 4. More attractive appearance
 - a. no service pole-control panel mounted on house
 - b. less "visible" to casual observer
 5. Less susceptible to vandalism
- ##### Disadvantages:
1. Permanent restriction on use of property
 2. Access to property for maintenance must be granted
 3. Contractor and equipment come onto property for installation

Some frequently asked questions:

Q. Do I have to tie into the sewerage system?

A. Yes, the Environmental Protection Agency grant conditions require that when sewerage is available, everyone must tie in.

Q. What will my tie-in cost be?

A. The plumbing cost to connect the house sewerage discharges to the grinder pump and the electrical cost to provide a 220 volt electrical circuit to the control panel. These costs will be incurred by the homeowner whether installation is on street or on private property. Installation must be done by licensed plumber and licensed electrician.

Q. Can I still discharge "gray water" from (shower, tub, sink, washing machine, etc.) into the canal, bayou, or ditch?

A. No, all discharge must be connected to this sewerage system.

Q. Can two or more homeowners share and connect to a single grinder pump unit?

A. No.

Q. What will happen to my existing septic tank?

A. The septic tank may not be used after sewerage is available. A final decision about pumping out, filling, removing, or simply abandoning the septic tank has not been made yet.

Q. What is the last day I can notify the district to confirm a private property installation?

A. October 15. Easements not received by that date with confirmation of clear title and unaltered service agreement will result in a street installation.

IT'S JUST A LITTLE HEADACHE... OR IS IT?

Do you have occasional headaches? They may be from simple eye strain, stale air, smog, or over-eating. However, millions of Americans suffer from recurring headaches... the kind of headaches that strike hard and keep coming back. Severe throbbing pain can envelope one side of the head and spread to the entire head as a migraine headache develops. Migraines can be accompanied by irritability, nausea, and sensitivity to bright light. Some migraine sufferers have also experienced throbbing in the neck and face. Migraines can affect not only your health, but your personality and lifestyle as well. If you've been experiencing recurring or frequent headaches, call or come by for a consultation. Chiropractic has helped millions of headache sufferers. Don't suffer needlessly! CALL TODAY. Find out if chiropractic can help you.
